9 MEN GET DRAFT CALL IN COUNTY

ARMY TO GET FIRST OF INDUCTEES HERE

First induction call for men into the armed forces has been received by the local draft board and 9 registrants will be required to report on September 29 .

This is the first call for men since the Korean War broke out in June. The peace time draft act was passed in 1948 and since that time 5 men had been inducted prior to the September 29 call.

Mrs. Loretta Brock, chief clerk at the local draft board said the men would be sent to Dallas and their names will be available after they have reported to the induction station.

Heavy calls are expected in the future in view of the fact that the army plans calling up 100,000 men a month to build the armed forces.

Men who are drafted are in addition to those being called up from the Reserve Corps.

PRICE INCREASES ARE BUILDING BARRIERS

Contracts for building of farm to market roads 1444 and 1445 from Ben Arnold to Clarkson will be re-let by the State Highway Commission in September, it was announced by Judge Dan Tyson of the County Court.

Judge Tyson said that in the original contract that errors had been made by engineers by underestimating the costs and new contracts will be necessary. Thus contractors who bid on the jobs will get a new whack at the funds available for this work.

It was said that defense demands have so greatly increased the price of materials that figures had to be revised. It seems that no one is required to carry out a contract unless profits are large enough.

These are important roads and no matter what they cost they must be constructed to give an outlet for one of the best farming regions of the county .

LOW VOTE TOTAL SETS NEW COUNTY RECORD

Milam County polled the lowest number of votes ever recorded in a run-off primary election within recent times when less than 2,000 went to the polls on Saturday.

At 10:00 Monday morning, returns from five precincts out of 47 had not been received and tabulated. They were small voting boxes and would not materially affect the total vote cast here. Millerton, In Precinct 4, cast only 6 votes, and generally, the precinct reported only a small percentage of the eligible votes.

In the City of Cameron, W. A. Morrison, candidate for Court of Criminal Appeals, received 442 votes, and would represent the maximum vote cast in Cameron for any one candidate. His opponent received 50 votes, and from these figures, it is sure that the City of Cameron was almost a thousand votes below the total cast in the July primary.

Salty cast 12 votes, while Sand Grove cast 13 votes and Bushdale reported only 9. Oak Hill came in with 12 and Sand Ridge cast a total of 10 votes. North Elm reported 16.

This newspaper will publish a complete totals on Tuesday if all the precincts report in time. Under a new law, the vote must be certified not later than Friday, and may be certified as early as Tuesday. In the first primary, Milam County cast over 6,000 votes .It appeared that not more than one-third of that number would be cast in the run-off primary on last Saturday.

DESTROY STALKS WILL CUT WEEVIL MENACE

A campaign of education among cotton farmers to the need of destroying cotton stalks to lessen boll weevil infestation is now under way.

J. D .Moore, County Agent for Milam County, has issued a statement and says that the Chamber of Commerce has a Crop Committee to encourage stalk destruction to lessen the boll weevil carry over.

Mr. Moore points out in certain areas of South Texas regulations require cotton stalks to be plowed under or destroyed to prevent spread of pink boll worms. This has proven beneficial, and increased production.

Cotton farmers in Milam County, Says Mr. Moore, should do everything possible to destroy cotton stalks early. This means that as soon as cotton is picked, stalks should be plowed under or otherwise destroyed. If cotton stalks are destroyed before frost, the weevils have nothing on which to feed, and through the winter they die. In the long wait for vegetation, infestation of weevils is reduced to a minimum.

These benefits have been proven in individual fields, and now an effort will be made to make it county wide.

SCHOOL BOARD VOTES TO CONTINUE POLICIES

Cameron's School Board has reaffirmed its traditional policy of accepting transfer of students and will welcome all pupils who wish to attend school in this city .

Superintendent W. T. Hanes telephoned this newspaper to say that the board had held a meeting to discuss the transfer problem. He said the board would continue to take transfers as long as there is room in the schools for them. The School Board would then make arrangements for expansion of school facilities.

It was understood early in the season that the board contemplated protest of transfer of negro students but will now receive them although facilities at the negro school are not as adequate as they should be. Any expansion of school facilities must take into consideration and enlargement of negro schools.

Business men and taxpayers in Cameron who know the value of a policy of a school board that looks ahead, will be glad to know there is a welcome in this city for all students who want to take advantage of our educational system.

Leadership in these matters rest squarely upon the School Board and the time has come for all of the people to think in terms of providing adequate school facilities for this community .

City Washes Storm Sewers To Give Some Relief From Stench

Business men generally were thanking the City Council for washing out the storm sewers Friday.

During the old days when a private utility company owned the water works, storm sewers were flushed out at required intervals. The City then had to pay for water. Now that the city owns the water works, there was never any excuse for letting the storm sewers get into such bad shape.

Of course, the city makes no effort to prohibit pollution of storm sewers in violation of the law. They can take tax money and keep them clean and there will be no breach of the status quo. In the meantime, north Fort Worth is still a little bit ahead of us.

HARVEST LABORERS ARE IN CITY SATURDAY

Cotton pickers were concentrating to some extent in Cameron Saturday and are looking for work in fields of this area.

Francisco Cruz who is acting as interpreter, told this newspaper Saturday morning that a large number of pickers had arrived and would be here over the week end and he would be on duty Sunday to assist farmers who are in need of pickers.

Mr. Cruz said that intercepting pickers on the highways has not been very successful and he feels that farmers would fare better if they had listed their names with some local agency because this method of handling pickers inspires confidence.

Cotton in this area is opening so fast that the harvest season will be short and the supply of labor is already nearly sufficient but additiona a number are here already looking al pickers will be coming in and quite for employment.

Football Tickets Will Be Sold at Stadium Beginning At 7 To Nite

Superintendent W. T. Hanes announced Wednesday morning that Reserved tickets for the 1950 football season will be on sale at Yoe High Athletic Field beginning Wednesday night at 7 to 9 P. M. and will continue each night at the same time through Friday.

This is made possible so that people who are unable to purchase tickets during the hours of 9 A. M. to 12 noon at the booth at the Cameron Theatre may have a chance to do so at the new time and place.

Mr. Hanes said this is being done to accomodate the workmen of the town and the farmers who are busy in the fields during the day and cannot be in the city in the morning for purchase of tickets.

Milton Schiller, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce said that up to 11 A .M. Wednesday morning that around 250 tickets had been sold and that plenty of good seats were still available.

ELECTION DAY SALES OF BEER BRING ARRESTS

Two local retail beer dealers were arrested Saturday, August 26 and charged in County Court with unlawful sale of beer on election day.

The men arrested are Zelie Jones, negro and Pedro Esquiviel, Mexican and both entered pleas of guilty before Judge Dan Tyson and paid fines of $100.00.

The men were arrested by W. W. Holland and Jack Sheppard of Waco, with the liquor control board ,assisted by Sheriff Carl Black .

County Attorney, Ed Gunn received the information from the officers and prepared two complaints on which the men were arraigned before Judge Dan Tyson.

The arrests followed an investigation conducted by the officers and so far as known are the only such violations to have occured in this community on which arrests have been made. The law expressly prohibits the operation of a beer saloon or the sale of beer on a State Primary Election day.

Zelie Jones operates a barbecue stand in Santa Fe town and does not have a license to sell beer. According to ofifcers he was obtaining the beer from a licensed dealer but no charges were filed against the source of supply and the negro could have been charged with selling beer without a license as well as selling on Election Day .

In assessing these fines the minimum was imposed. The maximum fine in such cases is $500.00.

F. A. Marek Will Observe 55th Anniversary Of Business In Cameron On September 1st; Began Work Here In 1895, Talks Of Old Days

F. A. Marek, for many years a leading business man in Cameron and a pioneer along commercial row, who has witnessed a half century of progress in Cameron, will observe his 55th anniversary on September 1.

Mr. Marek same to Cameron and went to work on September 1, 1895 for Lawrence and Smith Hardware Company. Both of the owners of this pioneer firm, H. F. Smith Sr., and C. W. Lawrence, are now deceased. He continued in this hardware store for 10 years and 7 months.

On January 1, 1906, Mr. Marek opened a furniture store and an undertaking business and remained in this for 9 years and 8 months. After that, he engaged in the real estate business for four years and on September 1, 1919, he bought out the Exchange Furniture Company, and he still owns and operates this fine business in Cameron.

Mr. Marek is one of the oldest and most active business men in Cameron and says he still feels like a young man as he looks back over 55 years in business in Cameron.

He recalls old times when merchants opened their stores at 6 a. m. and closed at 7 p. m. He recalls that 50 years ago in July and August, he was selling wagons to farmers and assembled as many as six wagons in a single day. "nI those days, we had no electric fans and no ice water," said Mr. Marek, "and those were hot days just like they are now, 55 years ago, but we enjoyed business in those days despite handicaps and the lack of things we now enjoy."

Mr. Marek recalls that business was pleasant and while the needs of the people were simple, it was a pleasure to do business with the men of that day. Mr. Marek has been very successful and has been honest in all of his dealings and therefore has enjoyed the confidence of the people. He says that the best college education he could get was between 1930 and 1935 when he served as a member of the Cameron School Board. In those years he obtained valuable experience and his business experience has taught him the value of the lesson of what he says is good "horse sense."

"I am very proud of people in Cameron. When I moved here in 1895, Cameron was very small. The City has grown, and is still growing, but I guess I am not growing anymore but as I look back, I am proud of my 77 years as part of the moving scene, in which this country has attained such great heights of progress."

Mr. Marek was born in Czechoslovakia on May 6, 1873, and came to the United States in 1876 when he was three years old, and the family settled in Austin County. He moved to Milam County and settled near Yarrellton in 1884 and still owns one of the best black land farms in Milam County.

FARMERS ARE GETTING THIRD MORE FOR EGGS

A profit of almost 30 percent is being realized by producers on eggs as a result of the storage system at Ideal Hatchery .

To illustrate the advantages of storage, concentration and special care, eggs handled under the usual system were bringing only 28.8 per dozen whereas eggs sold through the storage system are bringing 37.1.

Leo Fuchs, owner of Ideal Hatchery who has worked out the new marketing system in cooperation with J. D .Moore, county agent, has disclosed that during the past six weeks 8,851 dozen eggs have been sold and trucked to Dallas.

On these eggs alone the increase to producers has been $734.63. If these eggs had been sold in the usual manner this sum would have been lost, he says.

Farmers have been slow to realize the importance of collective bargaining through concentration and cooperation in the sale of their produce. For many years this newspaper has advocated depots where farm produce could be concentrated and picked up for quick transportation to centers of consumption. It now appears that Mr. Fuchs has given a very good example of what may be accomplished .

The volume of eggs being handled at this Co-op storage is very small in comparison to the total production and while the benefits have not yet been generally realized the idea should grow and eventually full market advantages can be had for the entire volume produced in the county.

Statistics are important when properly handled. Locally everything relating to production is largely guess work. The new egg selling system is a correct index to accurate information and businessmen generally should realize that farmers need a better marketing system .

JOHN WHITE HAS SAFE LEAD OVER MCDONALD

The Texas Election bureau wasn't ready to say flatly that White was in, but it figured that—barring a sharp reversal of trend—he would wind up, with a final lead of about 13,000 votes over incumbent J. E. McDonald.

County judge George Parr said White was certain to get about 4,000 of those additional votes from Duval County. Duval, Borden and King counties had reported no votes. Parr believed about 4,100 votes had been cast in Duvil.

McDonald, 69, a veteran of 20 years in office ,figured he still had a fighting chance, and he was clinging to it. At his home in Austin, he said he wasn't issuing any statements

MILAM COUNTY JUDGE IS WINNER IN STATE

Judge W. A. Morrison of the 20th Judicial District, Milam County, was nominated for a place on the Court of Criminal Appeals at the primary election on Saturday, August 26.

With slightly over 30,000 votes still uncounted in the state, Judge Morrison was leading his opponent by more than 100,000 votes and was assured of the nomination over R. L. Lattimore of Dallas.

Judge Morison was at his home in Cameron Saturday night, receiving returns by radio and telephone from friends throughout the state, and on Monday was receiving congratulations from his friends in Milam County who visualize for him a long and distinguished service on the Court of Criminal Appeals.

Judge Morrison will take the oath of office for his new judicial position in January, 1951. He was re-elected District Judge in Milam County in November, 1948 for a four year term. He will have served two years of that term and a vacancy on the local court will likely be filled by appointment by the Governor or certification of a name to the November ballot, by the Executive Committee, in the event a candidate seeks the unexpired term.

Judge Morrison is 41 years old, and has had experience as a judge as well as prosecuting attorney. He received wide support throughout the state from the bar as well as the newspapers of the state. When he begins his duties as a Court of Criminal Appeals Judge, he will take up residence in the city of Austin.

On Monday afternoon the fall was heavy in the city but light in the surrounding area .The rainfall was not extensive and the benefits will be negligible.

$600,000 FOR HOUSING IN FAVORED TEMPLE

More ripe plums were falling into Temple's hat, the latest lucious fruit being a $666,000 housing project approval in Washington on Tuesday.

The favored city in Congressman Poage's district was being lavished with Government consideration, and on Tuesday President Truman authoried funds for a low rent housing project in Temple.

It was said that the Government would give Temple out right a total of $666,000 while the community must put up only $66,600. This additional favor came to our neighboring city as Cameron struggled with a faint ray of hope that it could bring to the attention of the Government the desirability of this community as a site for a laboratory to be constructed for testing army materials under varying degrees of temperature.

Another plum of luscious vintage was a top priority for a four lane highway through Bell County, and on yesterday that good news was communicated to this favored area, and it appeared that the balance of power at the ballot box was being played for all it is worth.

Included in the request by Temple is a recommendation for homes for 50 Negro families which indicates that Temple is looking after its colored population as well as the whites. Already a total of $14,000 has been given to the city to make a survey to determine how much Federal Money they could as kfor.

In Cameron where housing is so acute, some may soon have to occupy the little gray buildings that dot certain areas, the City Council turned down a request that the city ask for a housing project. Maybe we need leaders who can visualize a better community.

ENLISTED RESERVE CORPS GETS NOVEMBER CALL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.— The army raised its manpower sights today with an announcement that 47,000 additional male enlisted reservists will be called to active duty by Nov. 10.

This summons is in addition to earlier calls for 62,000 enlisted men and 8,432 reserve officers of captain's rank and below .

All but 4,000 of the reservists included in the new call will be selected proportionately from the six continental army areas. The 4,000 will be drawn from the country as a whole and will include men with less than one year of previous active duty. They will be in camp by Nov. 10.

Enlisted reservists to be called from the army area are scheduled to be in training camps by Oct. 25. The army said that except for some specialists in the technical and administrative services, the age limits for this group will be 19 to 35, inclusive.

All men included in the call will be ordered to active with or without their consent from both the volunteer and the inactive reserve.

The priority of the individual calls to active duty, the army stated, will be determined by the number of dependents of the reservists and the requirements for his individual military skill .

The army has already called to active duty an undisclosed number of organized reserve units.

The call for reservists is in addition to the flow of reservists which will be brought into the army by the draft. The selective service has been given the job of producing 100,000 men by the end of October.

Selective service director Louis B. Hershey said recently that he had no reason to expect that the draft call in November would be less than 50,000.

Fourth army quota increased from 6,230 to 11,730. This includes Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma and New Mexico.

The army said that 32,000 reservists have received orders under the Aug. 4 call. The remaining 30,000 who figured in the Aug. 4 summons will be called up with the 47,000 involved in the second call announced today.

Storm Sewers Compete In Odor Distinction Race In Cameron

Storm sewers in the city of Cameron have become garbage pits and the distinction long applied to North Ft. Worth where the packing houses are located is about to be usurped in a big way.

There you get the full impact of animal flesh being prepared for the carnivorous homo plus an atmosphere of deterioriation that caused the train porter to jump up after he had been hit in the face by something thrown out the window a couple of cars ahead and exclaim "north Fort Worth."

Here in Cameron it is something else again. The stench issuing from the storm sewers after weeks of accumulation of decaying hamburger meats, dead cats, bilge from kitchens syphoned across the sidewalks by rubber hose is much more compelling than the odor that assaults the evening breeze when city employees begin disturbing the night soil.

To fully appreciate the great progress we are making in Cameron along sanitary lines you have to stand on the corner of East First and North Fannin or sit inside a building anywhere in the block.

Nearly every night filth from the gutters are floated into the storm sewers by use of hose and the accumulation is stacked high at the man holes. No one fully understands how such an alert sanitary system as we have, could possibly overlook the need of action.

This newspaper once said that if any man wanted to be elected Mayor he could do so by pledging every citizen a flashlight or a headlamp such as miners use in the coal caverns but now a new opportunity beckons.

While it is still true, folks bump into each other trying to get up and down the dark streets, a gas mask in the hands of every citizen would be a powerful appeal for votes. Folks just naturally learn to look to the city leaders for a way out of all their difficulties.

Mrs. E. J. Lewis has concluded a visit in Cameron and has returned to Waco to visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Richards. Mrs. Lewis visited her son, W. H. Fletcher, and his family of Cameron for several weeks.

Recent visitors in the home of Mrs. Arisman were Mrs. Velma Dyer of Dallas; son, Vernon Ryer of Springfield, Missouri; and Virginia Ann Cummings of Cameron.

YOE HIGH ANNUALS WILL BE DISTRIBUTED

All students who have completed payment of their 1950 annuals may begin receiving them on Monday, August 28, as registration for the new school session begins. Students may receive their annuals as they register, and all graduated Seniors may also come at that time for their annuals.

According to Mrs. Buddy Wiese, Yoe Yoe sponsor, the annual room will open at 8:00 a. m. and will remain open until registration is completed each day. Members of the staff will be in the room to issue annuals every day next week.

This information has been anxiously awaited by members of the Yoe High School student body for quite a long time, and it is expected that the Yoe Yoe of 1950 will far excel that of 1949.

Publication of the Yoe High Annual was resumed five years ago, and has been consistently improved since that time. Additional pages have increased its size, and the quality of the Yoe Yoe has been likewise improved each year.

For the past two years, members of the annual staff have been afforded the opportunity of attending the annual clinic for staff members in Austin at the beginning of the school. There they gained ideas for new and attractive yearbook themes, they learned more effective means of make-up, and received pointers on the artistic arrangement of the annual .

Yoe High School has two publications, the Yoe Yoe and the Yoeman Chant, published every two weeks for the benefit of the student body. As was pointed out in the commencement exercise this year, it is the desire of the staff and the school system that the school paper may cooperate more completely with the community papers and become a connecting link between school and community.

BIG STRIKE CALLED TO TIE UP RAIL TRAFFIC

WASHINGTON, Apg. 23.— A nationwide railroad strike, set to begin at 6 a. m. next Monday was called by the two big rail unions today immediately after White House peace talks collapsed .

A similar nationwide strike in Canada, now in its second day, has caused the most serious transportation crisis in Canada's history.

Barring intervention by President Truman—which seemed almost inevitable—the U. S. walkout combined with the Canadian strike would virtually paralyze rail transportation in the North American Hemisphere.

Under a World War 1 act of 1916, Mr. Truman could seize the railroads and operate them under Government supervision. Or he could get a court injunction to stave off the strike.

At the White House, Assistant Press Secretary Eben Ayers said there was no official comment and that no action would be taken tonight.

The 17-month-old dispute over wages and hours reached the breaking point less than 60 minutes after the White House had temporarily called off talks with both sides which have been in progress since Aug. 7.

Leaving the White House, union and management negotiators had joined in a statement saying:

"The case is deadlocked."

Union leaders went directly to a downtown hotel and at 5:00 p. m. issued the text of the following telegram to Presidential Assistant John R .Steelman:

"Please be advised and advise the President that we have authorized train and yardmen withdrawn from service on all railroads in the United States 6 a .m. standard time, Monday, Aug. 28, as a result of failure to reach setlement on the national rules movement."

The unions are demanding a 40-hour week with no loss in take-home pay from their present 48 hour wages, plus other adjustments in working conditions.

The two unions—the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Order of Railway Conductors—have a membership of some 300,000 workers. A total of 131 railroads would be involved in the strike.

No Free Water Ever Given Churches Here; Was False Alarm

The local water company has never supplied free, water for churches in Cameron.

When the city recently bought the water plant, an ordinance was enacted, which was a copy obtained from another city. It contained a provision that water up to a minimum would be furnished free to churches. The City Council, after it had enacted this ordinance, came back and struck out the free water proviso.

From this occurance, this newspaper placed a wrong interpretation on the action, and Rev. P. A. Corkern, pastor of First Baptist Church, called our attention to the fact that his church had never received any free water .

Negro Drunk Driver Pays $75 Fine Here

John Henry Lewis, Cameron Negro, has paid a fine of $75 in County Court on a plea of guilty that he drove an automobile while drunk.

Lewis was arrested on the highway near Hoyte Saturday night by O. D. Lewis, Highway Patrolman stationed in Cameron. As in all cases, such as this, the law automatically suspends license to drive a car. To the fine are added the costs of court which go to officers in fees, although Highway patrolmen do not receive a fee. They are paid a salary.

Drunk driving in Milam County is one of the frequent, reprehensible crimes committed by irresponsible people. A fine of $75 is nothing at all. A maximum fine which could be imposed together with six months in jail might have the desired effect.

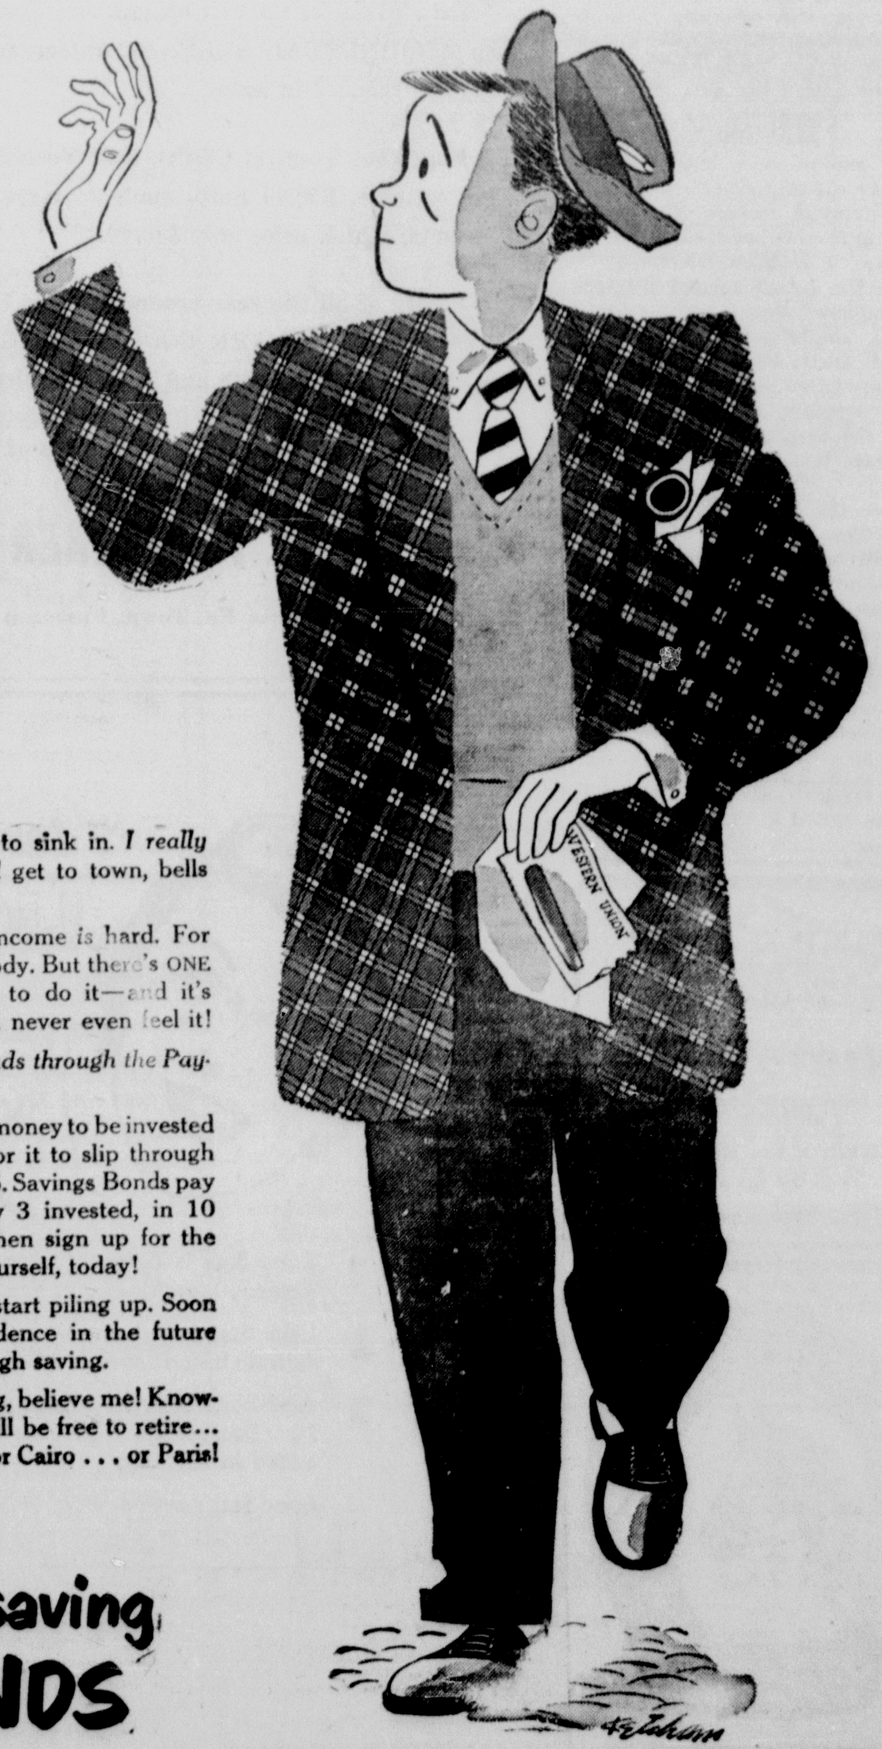
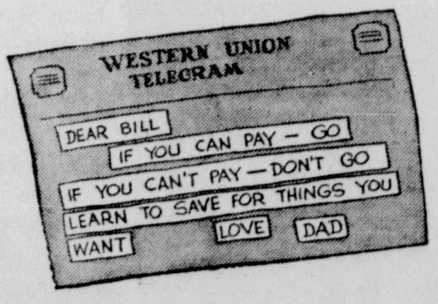
How I finally got to Boston!



When I was working my way through college, the big fall event was the annual football game with Harvard.

It was played in Boston, and our little New England town was an uninhabited place that week end—except for me, and a few other unfortunates. My trouble was saving money to make that trip. Try as I would, I just couldn't seem to hang on to it. So I'd wire Dad, hoping for a touch. Back would come his answer, and it was always the same:



IT was good advice. But for two whole years I never got to Boston. In the third year, however, the lesson began to sink in. I really saved—and I finally did get to town, bells jingling!

Saving part of your income is hard. For me. For you. For everybody. But there's ONE sure-fire, foolproof way to do it—and it's practically painless! You never even feel it!

Buy U. S. Savings Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan!

You don't handle the money to be invested . . . there's no chance for it to slip through your fingers . . . and U. S. Savings Bonds pay you 4 dollars for every 3 invested, in 10 years! Think it over! Then sign up for the Payroll Savings Plan yourself, today!

Soon the Bonds will start piling up. Soon you'll know that confidence in the future which only comes through saving.

It's a wonderful feeling, believe me! Knowing that, in time, you will be free to retire... or to go to Boston . . . or Cairo . . . or Paris! Or anywhere!

Start saving today!

Automatic saving is sure saving

NO ELECTRIC SHORTAGES DESPITE NEW DEMANDS

The present emergency in Korea finds that part of North, Central, and East Texas served by Texas Power & Light Company adequately supplied with electric power to meet increased industrial and military expansion as well as fulfill civilian needs.

W .W. Lynch, president of TP & L Company, said there was no danger of a shortage within the area unless government limitations are imposed which would prevent the completion of the construction program now under way .

Texas Power & Light Company, said Mr. Lynch, can supply more than twice as much electricity today as it could in 1941, just prior to World War II. "At that time," he said, "the Company had a capacity of 155,940 kilowatts. Today its available capacity is 328,900 kilowatts. Within the last two years, two major installations alone have accounted for 83,000 kilowatts of the in crease— a 70,000 kilowatt generator at the main generating station at Trinidad and a 13,000-kilowatt unit at the Waco plant."

The TP&L expansion program, which started immediately after materials became available following the late war, has added not only generating capacity, but also facilities for transmitting and distributing the power to points of consumption as the demands require. By the end of the present year 1,000 kilowatts of additional electric power will be added to the system, with 5,000 more scheduled for next year, 75,000 kilowatts in 1953 and another 75,000 in 1954. This makes a total of 156,000 additional kilowatts capacity to be added by TP&L Company within the next four years.

Even greater use of present generating capacity could be made by the conversion of many industrial plants, now operating on a one-shift basis, to a two or three shift operation, which would some with conversion to a full emergency basis, Mr. Lynch pointed out. This would enable existing power plant equipment to meet power requirements of expanded industry for more hours each day.

Another factor to be considered in the efficient utilization of available power is the fact that the Texas Power & Light Company's system in interconnected with the lines of adjacent systems, so that surplus power can instantly be made available at any point within the area served in the event of an emergency. This fact alone would enable the Company to operate safely on a lower margin of reserve capacity. It also forms one of the greatest sources of strength because it insures uninterupted electric power in such an emergency.

While Mr. Lynch pointed out that the Company's power picture today indicates ample power for all anticipated needs, he emphasized that any interruption in the current expansion program ,especially in completing the new equipment now under construction, could alter the picture.

"Under the present program," he stated, "Texas Power & Light Company will be able to meet all reasonable industrial, military and civilian power needs in the event of a full-scale war. Its margin of reserve capacity, together with the advantages of the interconnected system, is expected to cover any increase in power consumption that may result from stepped-up military output."

CAMERON WOULD SEND DELEGATION TO CAPITAL

Cameron Chamber of Commerce will send a representative to Washington if necessary and the Industrial Comimttee, meeting on Wednesday completed arrangements for a brochure to be mailed to the capital further emphasizing the desirability of Cameron as a site for the proposed Quartermaster Laboratory.

A telegram has been dispatched to Senator Lyndon Johnson asking for an appointment at the proper time with the Department of the Government that is to decide on a site for the $11,000,000 Laboratory.

Skilled public relations executives who have volunteered to back Cameron's claim were here Wednesday to be with local business leaders, and it appeared that the old town, so desirable a location for such a scientific establishment, would not lack advocates at the seat of judgment.

A reply is being awaited, and meanwhile, the Chamber, according to Bill McIntosh President, was prepared to finance a representative or a delegation to Washington.

Cameron is one of seven Texas cities being considered for the Laboratory. All other cities, except Cameron, have benefitted by the establishment of installations, all the way from airfields and military camps to dams across rivers, and since the city appears to be an ideal site, and listed among seven Texas towns, it appeared that a great advantage might be had as the result of this long neglect .

Meanwhile, Mr. McIntosh urged every business man in Cameron to wire or write Senators Johnson and Conally and Congressman Poage in Washington. urging them to support the local claim.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. McCullin and sons are on vacation and are expected home from their travels in the next few days.

Friends of Mrs. Jimmy Matthis will regret to learn she is among the patients ill at St. Edward Hospital.

M-Sgt. Albert Svetlik With 20th Bomb Group Now In England

The war-famed 20th, now flying Republic F-84 Thunderjet Fighters, was, until recently, stationed at Shaw Air Force Base, Sumter, South Carolina. Late last month ,they were transferred to RAF Base, Manston, England, on the Thames River.

The arrival of the 20th Fighter Bomber Group marks the first USAF jet fighter group to be stationed in the United Kingdom. While in England with the group, M-Sgt. Svetlik will be training with the Royal Air Force under the Strategic Air Command's rotation policy for Air Force units.

Miss Willie Fletcher of Austin visited in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fletcher, over the week end. Willie is employed by Lockhart's Agency in Austin.

Money and man are much alike. The tighter each gets the more it talks.

BUSINESS LEADERS IN HUDDLE WEDNESDAY

Cameron business leaders were in a huddle at the Chamber of Commerce Wednesday morning in connection with developments on the proposed Quartermaster Laboratory to be established by the War Department.

Cameron is one of seven Texas cities being considered as a site for the $11,000,000 scientific development to test out equipment in high and low degrees of temperature.

Considerable optimism was being expressed here over the progress and local leaders were encouraged by what they claim are letters indicating that representatives in Congress are ready and willing to do what they can.

Support for the Cameron cause was being enlisted over a wide area with other cities volunteering and their Chambers of Commerce willing to send representatives to Washington and to do everything possible to bring the advantages to Cameron favorably to the attention to the leaders in Washington.

A lengthy conference was held beginning at 11 A. M. Wednesday at the Chamber of Commerce and finishing touches were being put on a brief to be forwarded to Washington further emphasizing the advantages being offered by the city of Cameron.

The campaign was being greatly accelerated here and local leaders were leaving nothing undone to press the matter. It was fully understood here that Cameron would have to undertake a housing program and would welcome the oportunity to launch any program necessary to meet conditions demanded by the government in the establishment of this laboratory.

Bill McIntosh, president of the Chamber of Commerce and Stanley Swift were contacting businessmen in an effort to enlist community wide support in briefing Cameron's case for consideration by the authorities in Washington.

Already a site has been tendered and other sites are being obtained to give a wide selection and since the city has all utilities necessary the matter seems to be one of convincing Washington that Cameron is a desirable place for the laboratory.

CONGRESSMAN POAGE IS SURE OF APPROPRIATIONS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 — The Belton dam project is expected to get an appropriation of $3,000,000 for construction and might even get more Rep. W .R. Poage reported today shortly after the house passed the final draft of the omnibus appropriations bill.

Poage, after a conference with army engineers, said he was confident the Belton dam would get at least that amount.

The bill provides an over-all cut of $76,000,000 from the total sum voted by the senate, but the cuts are to be allocated acording to specific criteria set up in the bill .

This means that some projects may be cut 12 per cent or more if they do not conform to the specific rules set up. If some projects, particularly new ones, are cut out altogether, as the special formula provides, then army engineers may have even more money to apply to some other projects.

Poage pointed out that it is not possible now to say exactly what sum will be given to any one project.

The formula reads as follows:

The civil works program of the corps of engineers will be reviewed to insure that no new projects are initiated unless they make in important contribution to the war effort, and that only those projects now under construction which meet one or more of the following specific criteria will be continued during the period of partial mobilization.

The "specific criteria" are: 1. The project includes the development of power; 2. Provides industrial or municipal water supply in critical areas; 3. Is a dam and reservoir project where closure is under way or has been effected and should be completed to a point of useful operation.

Navy Veteran With Two Children Called Up For Submarine Duty

War can be and often is what General Sherman once said, "Hell."

Good Americans do not complain. They take it like it comes, but there is a feeling that injustice has often been done, and the latest example is a telegram received here Monday by Owen F. Stidham, veteran of World War II and in the Naval Reserve.

He has just been called back for active war duty and will leave Cameron early next week for Austin where he is to report to E. W. Hoagan at the Naval Reserve Training Center. From there he will be flown to Houston where his destination is a matter of assignment from that point.

Stidham is the father of two children. Not only that, but he is in the process of completing his education, and is currently enrolled at A & M College. "I have always said if they needed me, I was ready to go. That was easier said than done. I had just settled down to rear a family and to have my home life. They told me some years back if I would join the navy I could see the world. I joined and spent over three years looking at the bottom of the ocean from a submarine. Now I may have it all to do over again, and it seems to me there is a lot of futility about these wars. There should be some way to finish one up, and I think we quit too soon, or the politicians in Washington and the world at Large have failed us who served through the horrors of the last war."

Stidham served 47 months in the Navy and 43 months on the submarine "Gunnell." This sub sank 33 enemy ships to turn in one of the best records in submarine warfare during that period. His almost 4 years of service was spent in the Pacific .

In World War I his father, Grady Stidham, was in the United States Navy. A few years later, his son fights in another World War to end all wars. Will there ever be an end to wars? Many people, especially veterans who got their experience the hard way are beginning to wonder.

DRAFT DODGERS ARE NOT WANTED IN GUARD UNIT

Draft dodgers not wanted.

That was the substance of two memorandas just received by Battey C, 649th Anti-aircraft Artillery Battalion, outlining the National Guard's policy in accepting enlistments of men eligible to be called in the draft. One was from Maj. Gen. K. L. Berry, Adjutant General of Texas, and the other from Maj. Gen. Albert S. Johnson, Commanding General of the 49th Armored Division, of which Battery C is a part.

Both statements were made as a result of recent Selective Service policy which stated that the induction of a potential draftee would be postponed if he joined an active unit of a reserve component, such as the National Guard .The postponement would apply both before the man's physical examination, or afterwards to delay his induction into service ,according to Memorandum No. 20 ,issued to all Draft Boards as a guide.

In short, no member of the National Guard will be drafted as long as this provision is in effect.

"This policy provides a strong incentive to join the National Guard, train and serve with home-town comrades when and if the National Guard unit is called to Federal service," Gen. Berry said in his statement.

"However," he added, "I do not desire that this policy be abused by having it used as an "escape hatch" by men who simply want to avoid service, under the impression that the Guard will not be called."

And Gen. Johnson put it even more bluntly.

"There are no openings in the 49th Armored Division for draftdodgers," he said. "We do not want to fill our units up with individuals who are attempting to evade or delay their draft."

So far as Battery C, the local National Guard unit, is concerned, there has been no rush here by men eligible for the draft to enlist.

"Maybe they don't know a Guardsman is exempt from the draft," was one comment. "Or maybe they have decided on a wait-and-see attitude and will take their chances with being drafted."

Mrs. A. W. McCullin and sons, Albert and Grover Clay, accompanied by her father, G. C. Lucas of Minerva, have returned from a delightful journey to Seattle, Washington.

A few highlights of the trip included visits to the Royal Gorge in Colorado and the Mormon Temple in Salt Lake City .After reaching Seattle, the McCullins traveled by boat to Victoria, B. C. where they took a Tally Ho trip through the city, eating lunch at the Empress Hotel .

While in Seattle, the party visited Mrs. McCullin's brother ,Clayton Lucas and her mother, Mrs. G. C. Lucas. Also while in Seattle, the group enjoyed a visit to Mt. Rainier National Park .

Scenery was delightful enroute from Seattle to Sacramento, California while driving on the Pacific Highway. With the Pacific on one side and mountains on the other, the drive was very impressive. The drive also extended through the Redwood forests of California .

In Sacramento, the party visited the Hugh Lucas family, and were joined here by Mr. McCullin who flew by American Airline to accompany his family on the return trip, which took them to see Yosemite National Park, Boulder Dam, and Grand Canyon.

HARVEST PROCEEDING AT RAPID PACE IN COUNTY

New cotton was coming in at a fast clip at the Cameron Compress and it was reported here Wednesday morning a total of 775 bales had been received.

The volume of new cotton was reaching the market in such porpor - tions as to justify early predictions that the harvest season would be short, due to the continued dry weather and early maturity .

Cameron Cotton Gins were beginning to hum but not all the cotton reaching the Compress had been ginned in this city as Cameron is a concentration point for cotton over a wide area in Central Texas.

P. W. Davis at the Compress said that by the end of the week he expects about 1500 bales and this would indicate a very rapid maturity of the crop. Harvest labor is available in good supply and no difficulty in anticipated in gathering the crop.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Cravatt and children, Stanley, Darlene and Sharon of Austin were visitors in the home of relatives here over the week end.

Adeline Senkel of Temple visited Pearl Drozd the past week and is visiting her grandmother at Buckholts this week .

WE FACE BIG ODDS ON LABORATORY SITE

Cameron is believed to be in a precarious position in the $11,000,000 Quartermaster Laboratory proceedings and for the time being the civic leaders were resting on their oars.

The latest strong arm tactics occurred last week when Fort Worth and Dallas buried the hatchet and agreed to work together for the location of the laboratory some where near the two cities.

Congressman Poage had the name of Cameron put on the list but Belton was originally on the list and since no other town in his district is under consideration, so far as known, he could go all out. There was no way to ascertain what was going on beneath the surface.

Cameron leaders were hopeful that this city might be the only town in Texas to be listed among the final twelve over the country at large. In that case both senators and the congressman could give Cameron their support. As it is, they will not, for political reasons, advocate the few against the many. It makes little difference that Dallas, Fort Worth and Bell County have all kinds of military establishments. It is the vote that counts and Milam County is led to the slaughter every 2 years with no thought of more discretionary suffrage.

In the meantime we could move on to other bigger and better projects. Recently a campaign to raise $2,000,000 was instituted to teach the Eskimos how to play Canasta and they want leadership and who knows but what we may have the man they are looking for right here in our own community.

Cameron once considered an Ostrich Farm and after 20 years of pleading we finally got the Railroad crossings fixed so that when the family bus goes across Pa can keep his dental work intact .

Texans definitely chose these candidates for major offices in Saturday's Democratic runoff primary; Ben Ramsey, former state legislator and secretary of state from San Augustine, for lieutenant governor; Rep. Ken. Regan of Midland for another term, and Walter Rogers of Pampa for the Panhandle's congressman.

The election bureau's Sunday count, including returns from 251 of the state's 254 counties, 150 complete, showed these totals:

Ramsey 443,972, Pierce Brooks of Dallas 272,302.

Rogers 22,224, Mrs. Altavene Clark of Amarillo 16,765.

Brooks, Moss and Mrs. Clark conceded Saturday night.

In the agriculture commissioner race, the election bureau estimated 32,100 votes were still unreported in the 104 incomplete counties, including the three not heard from—Duval, Borden and King.

Based upon voting in the July primary and the trend established in the incomplete counties in Saturdays election, the bureau estimated the total vote cast for agriculture commissioner was about 715,000. Using the same calculations, the bureau figured White would come up with a final lead of about 13,000 votes.

Texans also elected three judges—District Judge W. A .Morrison of Cameron to the Court of Criminal Appeals, District Attorney Will Wilson of Dallas to the supreme court place 1, and Meade Griffin of Plainview already an associate justice by appointment, to the supreme court, place 3. The count:

Its A Frown and Not Smile; Delegation Can't Get A Hearing

The first frown or dash of cold water, as you want to call it, came early Thursday in a telegram from Senator Lyndon Johnson who says a delegation from Cameron will not be given a hearing at this time on the proposed Laboratory.

President Bill McIntosh, of the Chamber of Commerce, said he did not know what this indicated, but would see what could be done.

The Chamber had wired Senator Johnson asking for a hearing in Washington, and was prepared to send a delegation. The Senator wired that an appointment could not be arranged with the Government Department.

We can remember when the country's crime problems were solved in the highchair instead of the electric chair.

Parking Meters Bring In More Money As System Is Patronized

Parking meter revenue is still on the increase in Cameron and people generally were favoring this new progressive adventure made recently by the City Council.

Marshall Terry, officer in charge of collecting the revenue, said early Friday that $229.97 had been taken from the meter boxes, accounting for the past week.

Mr. Terry said if the meters continue to increase weekly at the present average the city would realize around $15,000 a year .

This money could be used to fill up some of the fox holes that are so prominent up and down our streets.

This is a good chance for the Street Committee to get busy and do something about the situation that exists here. The street lighting system could be improved greatly.
